

Hello!

We are members of the Education and Pedagogy Section of IAIP (International Association of Individual Psychology).

We are conducting research on “Parenting in the 21st Century: Challenges, Strengths & Support Needs.” to contribute to the development of meaningful, sustainable support for families worldwide.

We would be grateful if you could share your insights by participating in this survey. Your cooperation will help us create a better, more valuable global study. Thank you very much for your kind cooperation!
